The Hidden Treasure

Bruce and Gulati were neighbours. Bruce was poor while Goldie was rich. One day a wise old man came to Goldie's house and told him that all his fortune and money would someday pass on to his neighbour Bruce. Gulati was very upset to hear this. So, he sold off all his valuables and bought a big diamond with that money. He sewed the diamond into his turban. He wore the turban at all times so that no one could get the diamond. Goldie thought to himself, "now my poor neighbour Bruce can never get my money for I shall always carry it on my head." Many months passed by. One day when Goldie went boating, a strong wind blew off his turban and it fell into the river. The turban was swept away by a strong current of water. Goldie shouted, "get me my turban, find my turban. I have lost all my money." But there was no one around to get Goldie's turban out of the water. At the same time Goldie was happy too, because his riches had not gone to Bruce, as the wise old man had predicted. The next day, as usual, Bruce went fishing in the same river. He got a huge fish. Bruce was very happy at his catch and he ran home to tell his wife. When Bruce cut open the fish he found the diamond inside the fish's body. Bruce and his wife jumped with joy. Thus, the wise man's word that all of Goldie's wealth would someday pass on to his poor neighbour Bruce had come true.
